THE EXPERIENCE

NOT AN EVENT YOU ATTEND. AN EXPERIENCE YOU STEP INSIDE.

Set against the red rock canyons of Southern Utah, a region legendary for lost treasure stories, mass UFO sightings, ancient petroglyphs, and enduring mysteries, MYSTERIOUS X gathers researchers, experiencers, filmmakers, and investigators for four days of live presentations, expert panels, film screenings, and boots-on-the-ground expeditions to real mystery sites.

Every talk includes dedicated audience Q&A. Nighttime brings paranormal investigations, CE-5 contact expeditions under dark Utah skies, and the legendary Three Lakes Canyon, where the generations-long search for Montezuma's Aztec treasure continues.

ONCE UPON A TIME MUSEUM

KICKOFF MIXER · WELCOME DINNER · LIVE PARANORMAL INVESTIGATION

Some museums keep history behind glass. This one keeps it close enough to touch, and some say it touches back. Waiting inside: authentic Egyptian mummies and sacred bird offerings from the age of the pharaohs, one of Abraham Lincoln's stovepipe hats, documents signed by Washington, Jefferson, and Franklin, autographs of Wyatt Earp, Sitting Bull, and Butch Cassidy, treasures of Marilyn Monroe and Elvis, and the table where Morgan Earp was gunned down mid-game in Tombstone. After dinner, Dan Dillman and paranormal investigator Grim Jim, joined by fellow speakers and special guests, lead a live investigation across three thousand years of restless history. If anything in Kanab still stirs after dark, it's in this building.

THE FINAL DAY

SUNDAY AT THREE LAKES CANYON

MINUTES NORTH OF KANAB · ULTIMATE WEEKEND & FOUNDERS CIRCLE

Three generations of one family have searched this canyon for Montezuma's treasure. Dan's grandfather said the artifact was in the water. It was filmed once, on Lost Gold of the Aztecs, and never recovered.

ON SUNDAY WE GO BACK FOR IT, WITH EQUIPMENT.

DILLMAN CAVE

We found it. We uncovered it. Inside is an ancient wall and a stone box. This year we run ground-penetrating radar across the site to see what the wall is hiding and how far back it goes.

THE SKULL CAVE POND

An underwater submersible drone goes into the flooded cave, searching for the artifact recorded on Lost Gold of the Aztecs. It should still be down there, unless someone got to it first.

THE TECH · POWERED BY OKM AMERICAS

Ground-penetrating radar and the OKM Rover C4 map what is under the surface at Dillman Cave, reading the ground in three dimensions before anyone moves a stone. An underwater drone works the pond. This is professional detection equipment, not a weekend metal detector, and you are standing next to it while it runs.

YOU ARE IN THE FOOTAGE

We film the investigation. Sunday at Three Lakes Canyon is part of an ongoing record of this hunt, and the people who come are part of that record. Anything recovered is documented, photographed and logged on site, and you are there as it happens. If something comes out of that water, you were standing there when it did.

PLAN YOUR SUNDAY

THE DAY

2:45 PM	Caravan to Three Lakes Canyon, departing the theater
3:30 PM	Site exploration, GPR at Dillman Cave, submersible in the pond
6:30 PM	Catered dinner at Three Lakes Canyon
8:00 PM	Fire circle stories
9:00 PM	Nighttime CE-5 and sky watch, through 11:30 PM
OVERNIGHT	Cabins, safari tents and the stone house
10:00 AM MON	Checkout

WHERE YOU SLEEP

Three private cabins, four safari tents with real beds, and the stone house. Cabins and the stone house have private bathrooms, the tents share. Tent and camper space is available for anyone who would rather sleep under the stars. This is a genuine glamping site. It just happens to be an active treasure hunt.

ONE CANYON, EVERY STORY

Aztec treasure legend, UFO sightings, Bigfoot reports and ancient sacred ground, all of it converging in one canyon. Lon Child spent years as its caretaker. He is with us on Sunday.

KNOW BEFORE YOU GO

Getting there. Self-drive caravan, leaving 2:45 PM.

The ground. The walk to Dillman Cave is easy. Footing is uneven in places and there is water.

Ages. Family friendly. Under 18 with a parent or guardian.

Signal. Cell service is spotty and depends on your carrier. Wi-Fi is available at base camp.

Wear. Closed-toe boots or trail shoes with real grip, and long pants.

Bring. Layers for after sunset, a warm hat, a headlamp, a water bottle, sunscreen and a sun hat, a small daypack, and a camp chair or blanket for the fire circle. Pack a warm layer for sleeping, the tents get cold. Charging is limited, so bring a power bank.

Kanab sits near 5,000 feet. Late September runs warm in the afternoon and drops fast once the sun goes down, and you are outside until 11:30 PM.

ONE REQUEST

Red light only once the sky watch starts. White light kills everyone's night vision, including yours.

★ Exclusive to Ultimate Weekend and Founders Circle. Speakers attend as guests and arrange their own lodging. Not included in standard day or 3-day passes.
